Alexander Chiesi is a seasoned entrepreneur and public administrator with a diverse background in business leadership and municipal governance. Since January 2016, he has served as the Owner of Bros Cleaning Systems LLC in Orlando, Florida, where he is responsible for crafting the company's vision and strategy, overseeing daily operations, and managing all legal and administrative matters.

Prior to relocating to the United States, Alexander held the position of President at Kreativos Publicidad in Anzoátegui, Venezuela, from January 2014 to December 2015. In this role, he led the company's strategic direction, recruited and developed top talent, and represented the organization in legal and administrative proceedings.

From August 2005 to December 2013, Alexander served as a City Council member in Lechería, Venezuela. His responsibilities included supervising the Mayor's administration, reviewing annual management reports, approving the city budget, and enacting legislation to guide the city's development. He played a key role in shaping urban planning and governance during his tenure.

Earlier in his career, Alexander was the President of the Sports Institute of the City of Lechería from November 2004 to August 2005. He managed the institute's budget, directed staff activities, and coordinated city-wide sports programs and projects. He also provided detailed activity reports to the Mayor and ensured the effective operation of the organization.

Alexander holds a Law Degree from Universidad Santa Maria in Barcelona, Anzoátegui, earned in July 2007. He is fluent in both English and Spanish and brings a strong skill set in revenue management, client relations, and business development.